	1	2	3	4	5	Total
Verbal Delivery	Delivery distracts from presentation (e.g., pace too fast/too slow, monotone, inaudible, lots of vocalized hesitations). Speaker is visually uncomfortable and/or unprepared.		Delivery makes the presentation understandable but there are some delivery difficulties (e.g., lacks expressiveness, some vocal hesitations). Speaker is somewhat tentative.		Delivery makes the presentation compelling (e.g., appropriate rate, good volume, smooth). Speaker is confident, polished, and enthusiastic.
Data Example	Example is overly simplistic or incomplete		Example is appropriate		Example is appropriate, complete, advanced, and informative
Organization	Presents info without a logical sequence. Audience has difficulty following the presentation. Intro, body, transitions & conclusion are not observable. Speaker jumps around and does not manage time well.		Presents info in an intermittently logical sequence making the content somewhat cohesive. Intro, body, transitions & conclusion are somewhat observable. Some issues with time management.		Presents info in a logical & thoughtful sequence making the content cohesive. Intro, body, transitions & conclusion are clearly observable. Audience can easily follow the presentation. Excellent time management.
Visualization	Visuals are hard to see, unprofessional, unclear or irrelevant. Statistical output is incomplete or not well formatted.		Visuals are satisfactory but mediocre and not compelling. Statistical output is complete but not enhanced.		Visuals are clear, professional, vivid, memorable and enhance the presentation. Statistical graphs, equations, and tables are well thought out and integrated.
Reproducibility	R Markdown code does not run.		R Markdown file runs okay with all the necessary figures, tables, and math expressions.		R Markdown file runs perfectly for the selected presentation style.

Overall (Circle one): 1. Something might be wrong 2. Non-informative 3. Fair 4. Good 5. Excellent
